

Lake Blue Ridge

During the 30's and 40's, Lake Blue Ridge was a popular spot for swimmers. Featured is the end of what is now "Marina Drive." The marina and parking lot were later built to the left of this road. To the right of the "beach" was Furman Anderson's Boathouse which rented boats to fisherman. Robert Taylor was a guide who took many a fisherman out for a good catch. The island in the background is a landmark anyone using Lake Blue Ridge recognizes. (Picture courtesy of Tina Stuart)
